

 GENIUS™

The Energy-based Volume Restoration Technology

Genius introduces HIPR (High Intensity Precision RF), a technology that delivers energy through needlemeters and enhances volumization

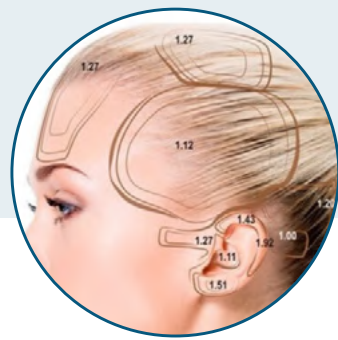

Every skin is different

Tissues' impedance varies by several factors like skin layers, thickness, body area, age, sweating, collagen content & more.

Factors affecting Tissues' impedance

Genius

A new aesthetic concept by HIPR (High Intensity Precision RF) technology. It enables the user to overcome variable impedance & achieve skin volume restoration by:

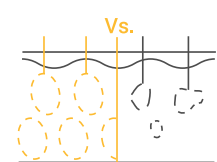

Real-time feedback during the session

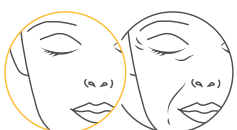

Automatic energy adjustments inside the skin

Instantly notifies user for any imperfections in technique

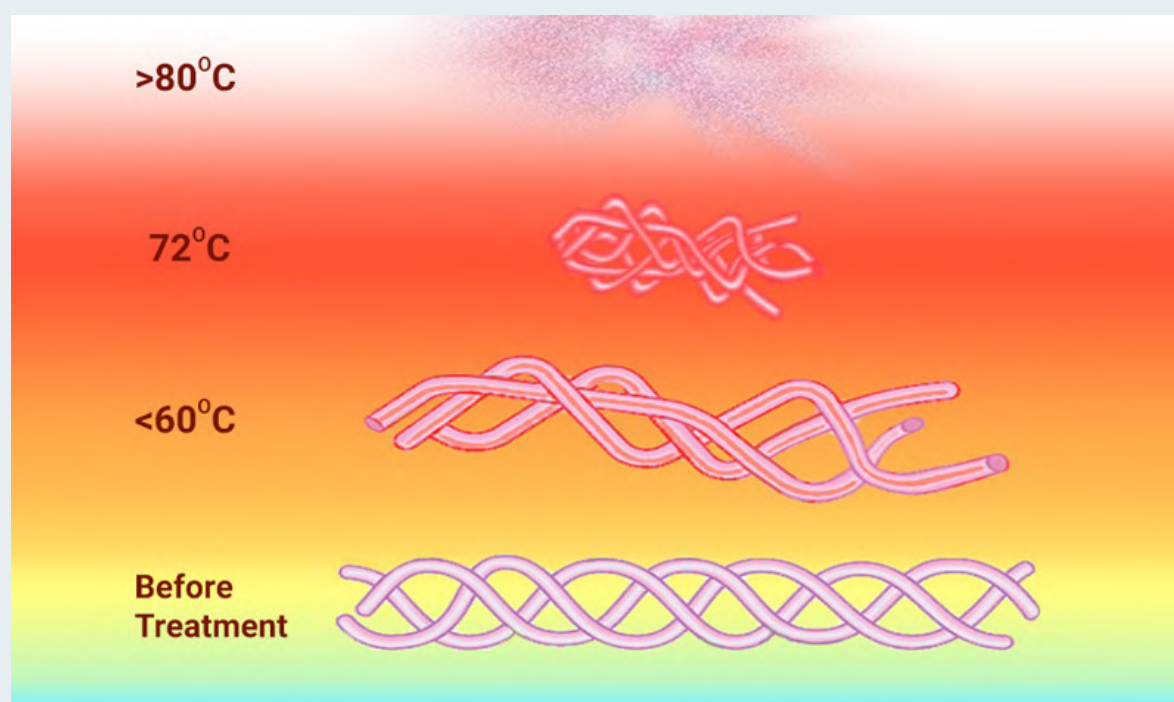

Forms wide & consistent coagulation zones that can't be achieved by traditional RF

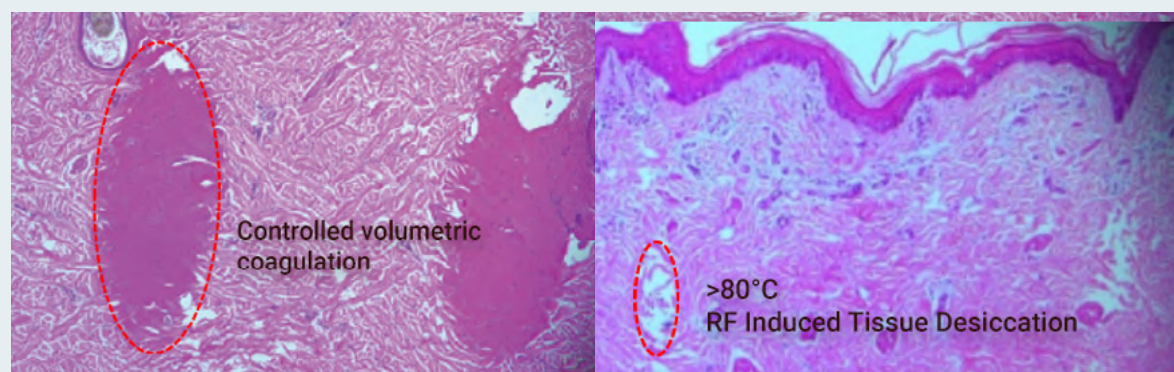

Skin volumization & tightening results by mass rebuilding of Collagen, Elastin & Hyaluronic acid

— Genius consistently reaches 72°C needed for skin volumization

>80°C leads to desiccation
<55°C leads to partial collagen remodeling

— Genius forms wide & consistent coagulation zones needed for skin volumization
